Caroline Gaspard's passion for fine stones was born from her many travels across different continents. Each stone, for which she had a special fondness, is a precious memory of these moments of discovery, starting with the very first stone she acquired, a red, diamond-shaped tourmaline.

Each of these center stones, varying in size, is not traditionally set but encased in 18-carat gold, pushing the boundaries of Akillis' workshops. Thus, the message that Caroline Gaspard seeks to convey remains intact through this exceptional collection: love, captured forever.
