CAPTURE AMULET

The jewelry house Akillis, renowned for its craftsmanship and creative audacity, unveils a new variation of its iconic Capture collection. With Capture Amulet, the brand draws inspiration from powerful symbols to create a line of jewelry that evokes a romantic lucky charm. Between freedom and possession, Capture is the expression of biting passion according to Caroline Gaspard, a duality that gives strength to her collections.

Here, the bracelets and necklaces of this new collection embody a harmonious alliance between tradition and modernity. Each piece is designed as a talisman, a protective jewel, for all men and women passionate about life.

These jewels are available in gold, titanium, and diamonds, the emblematic materials of the French jewelry brand. Gold, a symbol of eternity and purity, is perfectly suited to these exceptional creations, while titanium, known for its strength and lightness, adds a contemporary touch. Diamonds, on the other hand, enhance each piece with an incomparable flash of brilliance.

A new challenge for Akillis is the use of Akoya pearls. Known for their exceptional luster and perfectly smooth surface, these pearls offer a subtle shine and natural beauty, making them the perfect symbol of pure and unconditional love. In this new variation, Akillis reinvents the pearl by integrating it into mixed creations, where each jewel tells a unique love story.
